MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR OF DELAWARE — The following is a synopsis of the message of Governor Burton of Delaware

He deplores the civil and sanguinary war, the depreciation of the currency, and the other evils, and then expresses the fear that the General Government will leave the country without hope of the restoration of the Union, by its emancipation measures He also condemns the emancipation scheme in unequivocal terms, declaring compensated emancipation unconstitutional, while it would be paid in a depreciated if not utterly worthless medium It would be an act of injustice to the white man, who would then be taxed to support negroes Colonization is also denounced as a wild and visionary scheme, impracticable as it is old It would produce a too radical change, and break up the social system of the South The argument that the Government has no constitutional power to appropriate public money to pay for emancipated negroes is again reiterated He cannot perceive how the rebellion is to be crushed by emancipation, but takes great comfort and hope at the result of recent Northern elections He then refers to his action at the time of the first call for troops by the President He declined to furnish them, because of the "non-existence, of a militia law conferring such authority on the Executive." He, however, issued a proclamation for the formation of Home Guards, which were formed Some of them tendered their services to the United States and were accepted. He alludes to the disarming of the State, and disbanding of others of these companies, and the arrest of some of their members, as an arbitrary infringement upon the rights of a loyal State.

The order for the draft is spoken of, and the fact that the enrollment was made in every hundred but one (Baltimore hundred) is pointed to with pride.

The "unwarrantable and unconstitutional arrests of peaceful and loyal citizens" horrifies the Governor, as also does the "unlawful and unprecedented interference" with the voters by the introduction of armed troops into the State on the day of election, who were kept at nearly every voting place in the State. He can see no possible exigency to justify such action. They had no right to come into the State It was not only an infringement upon the rights of her citizens, but a slander upon the character of the State. To prevent such occurrences in future, he commends the passage of an act making it a penal offence for any person or persons to be within one mile of an election held in the State, either commanding an armed force or being commanded as such, whether they be of the United States forces, or from any other State, or belonging to our own, every such offence to be made indictable in some proper court and punishable with fine and imprisonment.

The enlistment of Home Guards by the United States Government, to serve within the State, is also adverted to in severe terms, and upon it he comments at length.

DECISIONS OF THE TAX COMMISSIONER —The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that official instruments, documents and papers, issued or used by the officers of any State Government, are exempt from stamp duty. Whenever an instrument is executed by several parties acting jointly, one stamp only is required, which may be affixed and cancelled by either of the parties.

THE PEN WITH WHICH THE PROCLAMATION WAS SIGNED.—President Lincoln has presented to Senator Sumner, for transmission to George Livermore of Cambridge, Massachusetts, the pen with which he signed the Emancipation Proclamation

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB 17, 1863

Ulterior Designs of the Confederates.

Anticipating the possibility of defeat in their main design of severing the Union at Mason & Dixon's Line, the Confederates have, from the first, been considering the best method of retreat from their position in the Cotton States, intending to transplant their peculiar ideas to a more favorable locality, if defeated in their leading purpose Mexico, Central America and the West Indies afford the field which they desire, and in order to secure the two last, they ultimately aimed at the conquest of the first.

If beaten in the Cotton States, they purposed to retreat into Texas; where they could leave the pestilential swamps of Louisiana for their eastern frontier, Red river for their northern border and an outlet to the Gulf of Mexico and to the Mexican States on the south and south-west. In Texas, they calculated that all who believed in the divine or dimanation of the institution of slavery would rally, and from thence they would issue to new scenes of conquest, upon which they proposed to plant the patriarchal institution.

It was at first proposed to combat this scheme by sending a Union force through Mexico, from the Pacific side, to occupy the line of the Rio Grande and arouse the latent Union sentiment of Western Texas But this idea was abandoned for the more useful scheme of opening the navigation of the Mississippi river, which would at once give egress to the overburdened magazines of the West and cut off the rebel retreat from their present stronghold. This idea appears about to be realized by the occupation of Vicksburg and Port Hudson.

The rebels have made extensive preparations to give effect to this idea of a final retreat into Texas, by the construction of new lines of railroad, or by adding new links to the partially completed chain of railroads which connects Richmond by many routes with the South and South-West. The most important of these, for the success of their plans about a final retreat west of the Mississippi, is the railroad from Richmond by Danville, through Western North Carolina, Columbia, Central Georgia to Montgomery, Alabama. From Montgomery to the eastern border of Mississippi, at Marion, in Lauderdale county, there was a break of over a hundred miles. But this has been supplied, and from thence the railroad leads through Brandon and Jackson to Vicksburg. There the Mississippi river is crossed and a railroad is laid down to Shreveport, on the eastern frontier of Texas. The capture of Vicksburg breaks up this fine scheme and destroys all co-operation between Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, and the rest of the rebellious States. When our loyal readers read that the navigation of the Great River is opened they may rejoice that the beginning of the end approaches, and light will have dawned for the first time during this war We look with the most implicit confidence to this consummation; trusting in the strength of our brave armies, the skillfullness of our Generals, but more to the righteous cause for which they battle. While the successes of the Union armies have not been altogether without serious reverses, it is a striking fact that, one by one, the rebel plans have failed, and, little by little, they have rendered up their territories until, instead of wondering at the slow mess of our conquests, we are somewhat embarrassed by the magnitude of the countries thus restored to the Union.

Counties.—A correspondent at Colville writes to us, under date of the 7th of January, that times are very dull at that place. If it were not for the military trade, there would be absolutely nothing Sugar was selling at 50c a pound; coffee, 60c; flour, 10c; beef, 20c; bacon, 60c, and other things in proportion. The population is reduced almost entirely to the French and half-breed settlers, who have no elements of progression in them, and have no higher anxiety than to trade off the small products of their labor for gay, cheap calicos and gew gaws, or the death dealing rum-rifle whisky of the traders The fertility of the lands at Colville and its advantages of climate, joined to its pastoral and mining advantages, deserve the attention of a better class of settlers.

New Road.—The citizens of Lane county propose to construct a wagon road from Eugene City to the John Day and Powder River mines, by the way of McKenzie's Fork of the Willamette River A company, organized for that purpose, advertises for five hundred men to work upon the road The construction of roads across the Cascade Range will give the citizens of the upper counties outlets to the mines which will prove of great service

Retired.—Mr C H Miller has retired from the editorial management of the Eugene Review. In doing so, he takes occasion to remind the public of numerous prophecies which he has made, during the last half-year, all of which have come true We would respectfully remind him that, "Prophets are not honored in their own country," and he need not expect to form an exception to the rule

Prospecting in the Rocky Mountains

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT

Colville W T, Jan 10th 1863

Editor Oregonian

I left Elk City, in the Nez Perces mines, on the 20th of August and took the Southern Nez Perces trail to Bitter Root valley The first stream of any importance which I came to was the Bitter Root river which is about one hundred miles from Elk City over very high mountains, and a bad trail Taking down the stream which is the south west branch of the Bitter Root I traveled thirty miles to where the other branch comes in and below these forks crossed the main stream This crossing of the Bitter Root is at forty miles South of Fort Owen where there is a considerable settlement and a Catholic Mission From thence the line of travel was up the South east branch of the Bitter Root to near its source, a distance of about forty miles—Crossing the divide of the Rocky Mountains, which at this point only separates the waters of the Missouri and the Columbia by a space of about five miles, Wisdom Fork of the Missouri is reached A good wagon road can be easily made from Wisdom river to the Mullan road and by it supplies of provisions can be brought from Bitter Root valley to the head waters of the Missouri river Keeping east about twenty-five miles, I reached the

MINING CAMP AT BIG HOLE DIGGINGS

These diggings are on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains just across the 'divide' from the head waters of Salmon river, where the camp known as the "Mormon Settlement—which we call here Fort Lemhi"—once existed At Fort Lemhi it is said that the Mormons found good gold mines, but the Indians drove them off before they had time to develop them However that may be it is quite sure that gold does exist on the other side of the mountains, at the Big Hole mines These mines were discovered about the 1st of August, 1862 by a party of emigrants bound to Florence or Elk City from the Western States and Pike's Peak I found them laboring with insufficient tools, and the greater portion of them had no experience in mining The work was being carried on mostly in gulches, and the yield, to the man was from a quarter of an ounce to an ounce a day The gold was of fine quality, resembling the scale gold from the California rivers and passing current in trade at $18 an ounce, but probably worth $20 at the mint

Before going further let me sum up the distance from Walla Walla to this point

From Walla Walla to Lewiston	99
" Lewiston to Elk City	110
" Elk City to Big Hole	200
Total	399

After staying two days at Big Hole I determined to strike for some new diggings, recently discovered by emigrants, said to exist about sixty miles distant in a south east course In going thither I kept along the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, through what is known as

THE BIG HOLE PRAIRIE

This prairie is about fifty miles long and twenty wide It takes its name from being walled in by high mountains It abounds in game, of which elk, moose and antelope are the most numerous, of the larger kind, and grouse, of the smaller There are a few bison here, but they are not plenty The grouse were so plenty, that I frequently killed all that we wanted from my horse's back. The climate of this valley is extremely mild, and the grazing very fine It will afford an abundant subsistence for a large population, and has the certainty of a fine market in the rich discoveries now made or to be made, in the gold range on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains I found the newly discovered mines

AT HORSE PRAIRIE

At this place, about three hundred and fifty persons were assembled, including seventeen families. All of them appeared to be rejoiced with their prospects, and many said they were making as much as $50 a day to the man After prospecting their claims, I have no hesitation in saying that I believe their statements to be true From this figure the yield was all the way down to $3 or $4 a day to the man Many were engaged in hauling dirt from one to two miles, and doing well at it, making from $4 to $10 a day to the man The country looks favorable for hill diggings, and a moderate outlay of capital in water ditches would be sure of a profitable return

At Horse Prairie flour was selling at $20 a hundred, which was less than the price at Elk City Bacon, sugar and coffee, were at about Elk City prices, and clothing, tobacco and liquors, at Walla Walla prices Plenty of beef cattle, of the best quality, had been brought from Deer Lodge valley, and fresh beef was retailing at ten and fifteen cents a pound The flour comes from Salt Lake distant four hundred miles by a good wagon road, with freights at ten cents a pound Supplies of groceries, clothing and liquors, will always come from Fort Benton, distant two hundred and fifty miles, by wagon road, with freight at seven cents a pound

LOCATION OF HORSE PRAIRIE

Horse Prairie lies about due south of Deer Lodge valley, distant about one hundred miles, about four hundred and fifty miles, a little south of east of Walla Walla and one hundred and sixty miles due south of Fort Owen An immense influx of people is expected from the Western States in the spring and I feel sure that the gold mining prospects warrant the belief that they will do well

On the 22d of September, I returned to Florence, sold out my mining interest there bought supplies to take to Horse Prairie, by the way of the Mullan Road and have stopped at Colville to winter I expect to start for Horse Prairie, from here, about the 1st of April R McI

The Woolen Mills.—Messrs Thomas Charman and Wm Barlow, of Oregon City, are now in this city to receive stock subscriptions to the capital for the erection of a Woolen Manufactory at Oregon City We have before spoken at length of this enterprise, expressing our opinion of its importance to this place and have nothing to add on that score. Over half of the capital stock, of $60 000, is already subscribed and those who have an idea of investing will get full particulars by calling on the gentlemen named at the Pioneer Hotel to morrow

Up the Columbia.—The boat from the Cascades brought nothing from beyond the Dalles The steamer Col Wright attempted to go up to Wallula on Tuesday and was driven back by the ice As the weather has moderated, it is likely that she will be able to make the trip, starting from Celilo to day

For John Day.—Mr Iph Day and nine companions went up on the Idaho yesterday morning They purpose to go to John Day mines over the snow and it is said they have provided themselves with Norwegian snow shoes on which to cross the mountains The trip is difficult but not dangerous to those who know how to make it

White's Fever and Ague Drops—For the cure of AGUE PANAMA FEVER NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success I dread in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure in Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten

CIRCUIT COURT.—The following is an account of the proceedings in the Circuit Court, yesterday—Judge Shattuck presiding:

W S. Ladd et al vs J. Sloan and E Stewart. Judgement $868 17.

Sherry Ross vs D Simon. Verdict for defendant

State of Oregon vs W. H. Wills and Josiah H. Roberts. "Not a true bill." Defendants discharged.

State of Oregon vs. J. B. Stephens et al. "Not a true bill." Defendants discharged.

The following is the report of the Grand Jury of Multnomah county, for the February term of the Circuit Court.

The Grand Jury respectfully beg leave to report to the Hon Court, that they have had under examination during the days they have been in session some twenty-one separate charges, and have found seven indictments. During our deliberations much of our time has been exhausted in the examination of testimony, both in support of and against the charges submitted In so doing we have been guided by the statutes of our State, and many cases, which appeared criminal and in direct violation of the law committed, have been properly and thoroughly examined and dismissed, without uselessly submitting for trial and subjecting the county to unnecessary expense, with no prospect of arriving at any other conclusion than acquittal. We have had some few cases submitted to us concerning the obstruction of the public highways, but not of sufficient importance to warrant a direct prosecution. But we would suggest that wherever any trifling obstruction shall occur in any of the public highways of our county, that the supervisor of such district has sufficient authority to cause the immediate removal without any expense to the county, more particularly where neighborhood bickerings have caused such imaginary obstructions

In one or two cases charges made before Justices were not sustained before us, because, probably, we could not have the same witnesses then examined. It would be conducive to the ends of justice if committing magistrates would be more strict in binding our witnesses in such cases, as required by statute, with security, particularly in cases where charges have been preferred of a serious and important criminal character.

We have found the public officers of the county attentive and faithful in the performance of their duty, so far as we have any knowledge. No complaints were made in this direction, but, on the contrary, a proficiency has been exhibited on their part worthy the trusts they occupy.

We have examined the public prisons of the county and the penitentiary of the State. The county jail under its present management is well kept, clean and comfortable. We have investigated the cases of all persons confined therein who are not sentenced by competent authority for crime, or indicted, and have either found indictments or directed their discharge. With the probable increase of population in our county, there will soon be need of increased numbers of cells, and more room, and the county authorities should look to this matter in time.

In the penitentiary we found the new system working well. The prisoners are clothed in uniform, are fed with plenty of plain, substantial food, and are kept apparently clean and as comfortable as the punishments due them will allow. The prison is, by the application of the proper appliances and necessary care, kept clean, and the many bad odors heretofore prevalent, have vanished; and, as a consequence, we are informed by the warden that the charges for medical attendance upon the twenty-four convicts has been reduced from an important to a nominal sum. The building has not been changed or improved so as to add to its security. We are pleased to add, that after a thorough examination of the report of the warden to the superintendent, we are convinced that a considerable share of the expenses of the institution are already paid from the labor and manufactures of the convicts, and the superintendent and wardens are confident that in a reasonable time, and with proper management, the penitentiary will cease to be an expense to the State, and when placed in a proper and upon a profitable location—perhaps becomes a source of profit as in some of the older States. Under the new system we are also happy to report that there have been no escapes from the institution.

In connection with our visit to the penitentiary, we deem it our duty to call the attention of the city authorities of Portland to the bridge near the building at the southern limits of the city. It is dangerous to both man and beast, and should be removed as a public nuisance. A little more neglect may result in loss of life or property, and subject the city to serious costs for damages.

We found the city jail to be a miserable and unfit structure, that ought to be removed as a public nuisance, reflecting, as it is, no credit on the city or its projectors. Yet, with all its unfitness, we found it cleanly kept, and comfortable so far as its present management is concerned.

We have examined the County Clerk's office, and we find it wholly unfit and insecure for the safe protection of the large amount of valuables therein contained The rapid increase of our Records of Deeds alone have already surpassed the capacity of the fire-proof safe belonging to the County, and as such valuables increase the risk and damage by fire will become equally great in proportion The other records and valuable papers necessary to be kept in the County Clerk's office, are also rapidly increasing in quantity and interest, and urgently demand a safe, convenient and fire-proof building, sufficient for the important offices of County Treasurer and County Clerk, where all these valuables may be safely and securely kept The healthy condition of the finances of the county will certainly warrant, and the urgent necessity of the case demands such an investment. It is estimated by the County Clerk that, on the first day of July next, there will be the sum of twelve thousand dollars in the County Treasury unappropriated. A large proportion of this amount doubtless will be in Legal Tender notes, yet a favorable proportion will be the meantime accumulate in gold coin. Common prudence, then, would seem to dictate that an appropriation for the erection of such a building would but do credit to the wisdom and necessity of the county

We are happy to report that no charges have been brought before us for the sale of spirituous or malt liquors without license.

All of which is respectfully submitted

J C FRANKLIN,
Foreman of the Grand Jury

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.—Mr. J W Smythe, a young man having an extensive circle of friends much attached to him, mysteriously disappeared on Tuesday the 29th day of January last. He went down town from his boarding house, for the purpose of transacting some business at a banking house, and has not yet returned. Serious apprehensions are felt lest he has been made away with for his money, as he spoke of being in possession of a large quantity of greenbacks, besides checks for an indefinite amount, at the time he was last seen He left some valuables at the house of Mr. J. C. Franklin, near the Public School house, where those who are interested may hear further by inquiring.

AN UNFORTUNATE JOHN.—A Cheap John, named Schirpser, was yesterday brought before the Recorder charged with violating Ordinance No 10, in that he did on certain nights of late use obscene language while selling goods at public outcry after night at his place of business on Front street, between Alder and Washington streets Also that he did exhibit for the delectation of a crowd of amateurs certain indecent pictures not calculated to improve the standard of public morals in this city To this charge, the Cheap John plead not guilty, but the facts supported the charges, or he was fined $50 and the costs, $52 50 more, and in default of payment twenty days in the city jail We have before called attention to the serious breaches of the peace committed at these Cheap John stores, with a design to incite the authorities to take measures to prevent their recurrence We hope to hear of their prevention in future It is likely the case will go to the higher courts

THE WATERS.—Previous to the heavy rains of yesterday and the day before, snow lay to the depth of over a foot all over the Willamette valley. Since then, it has gone off and so great is the quantity of water in the small creeks and rivers that a flood is feared Of this we feel no apprehension, remembering that it took fifteen days' rain to produce the unexampled flood of last year

HALF SHEET.—The Times lately tried to be very witty about halves and quarters Yesterday morning that paper made its appearance on a "half sheet" Of course, it cannot be expected to come out on a "quarter sheet," so we are likely to miss our fractional cotemporary altogether—no great loss, by the way. We are great ticklers for economy, and desire to express our satisfaction at this evidence of the "tightness" of the times No allusions to "free whisky" intended.

A Fine Gun.—Call at CAMPBELL'S SHOOTING GALLERY Front street, near Morrison and see the new $200 Forsling Piece now on exhibition—a model of elegance, simplicity and effectiveness Gentlemen who take them "on the wing" will find something worth seeing in this gun, which is San Francisco made, and a meritorious specimen of the handicraft of the coast,

Alsek has received by last steamer a fine lot of WINES LIQUORS and CIGARS.

Storage.—THE FIRE-PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building, not made of wood at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town. Liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although storage in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place

Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam.—Every intelligent man or woman who is suffering from CONSUMPTION, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, and wishes to find the best remedy, will be amply repaid by examining the certificates and statements of esteemed citizens, attesting the efficacy of Dr. WM HALL'S BALSAM, a remedy which has the sanction of scientific men

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PULMONARY BALSAM and SYRUPS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice See advertisement dec16d&w3m

DOCTOR VAN ZANDT,

CONSULTING PHYSICIAN & SURGEON

Office, Corner of Washington and Sansome streets, San Francisco

The GREAT SUCCESS of this CENTURY as an EFFICACIOUS MEDICINE

The Medicines Invented by Man of Material Nature, Electricity is made subservient to for the Cure of all Nervous and Special Diseases

THAT THIS PRINCIPLE SUCCESSFULLY APPLIED in the United States for restoring into positive use the great nervous system of the human body, and thereby bringing back to all its healthy and functional departments the human body. It is a part of that great principle which we are every day influenced by nervous energy and upon which we depend for existing diseased action.

Too Much Cannot be Said

in the praise of this principle, which is at its health there is an exact equilibrium of the Electric principle and when this secret of all sudden epidemic of health is broken up all the body is negatively electrified which is positively charged—is not the current but an absence of forces going on the system? Thus medicine reaches, and in order that it is the cause of the disease should be perceptible to remedial agents we must first reach it.

Awaken the Magnetic Life within us

These vital principles that live in our systems Believing as I do most firmly in the great magnetic or electrical intensity of the earth with its influence upon our bodies in health and disease I am led to take advantage of the press through which to awaken attention to the subject that good may come to all

No Compromise with Disease.

Give the body strength and nature will relieve herself until the life-blood reaches the stomach liver heart kidney and all the natural functions active by ELECTRICAL agitation and at once the nerves the pained the nervous, the dispirited the melancholic the dyspeptic and the infidel revive under its benign influence

To the Ladies of California.

Dr Van Zandt's success with complaints of women, both in family and office practice, is owing to his correct views of the origin of all their maladies Ladies can consult him with entire confidence as he is no specialist upon human ills—but is proving himself the only member of the legitimate profession in California who is really successful in removing those ills which are the peculiar province of the sex His high appreciation of their delicately attuned nervous organism together with their great sympathetic life, renders him doubly able to assuage those silent complainings which they bear so patiently and so long No social disquiet need longer afflict our home circles for he can awaken the stricken energies, restore the wasted tissues of the body awaken the melancholic and despondings arrest the sad drains which cause so much anxiety cure those loathsome maladies which have so long

Baffled the Skill of Physicians.

Develope appetite life and animation dispel nervous headache sinking at the stomach wandering pains, wasting away of a weak extreme debility and life tiresome, melancholic sleeplessness, unpleasant dreams and that general depression of life's powers which go to render her life a misery and death a boon Dr Van Zandt with his new method of exciting the Electro-Galvanic current, together with his remedial measures which are adapted to the necessities of California, will assure you of a complete and radical recovery of all bodily and mental infirmities, and will restore you to usefulness and spare you a blessing to your family and society

All the world over

wherever diseases exists, whether special to the soil and climate or common to all regions—epidemic or carnal, acute or chronic contagious or non-contagious—it is as necessary to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium, especially in California, as it is to give food to the starving This statement is based upon a series of facts extending through many years and verified by hundreds of patients so that no principle of science, no rule of experience, no result of any well known cause rests upon more sure and unassailable foundations than those which underlie the world wide reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous states of the body, all lingering chronic and physical debility, or prostration coughs, asthma wandering pains of a rheumatic, gouty or mercurial character and all forms of disease the result of scrofula or cachetic habit of body

None Need Despair of Relief.

If you have ulcers which will not heal—pains that cannot be resolved—melancholy which you cannot shake off—loss of power which you cannot regain—depression of spirits which weigh you down—wakefulness that knows no sleeping—weakness that languishes for want of energy—a void which no society can fill—suspicion which no assurance can stay—Go to Dr Van Zandt for his great success and the safety with which the administers his new method of electrical excitation together with his remedies, which are adapted to the requirements of climate and constitution will assure you of a complete and radical removal of all bodily and mental infirmities, within the scope of science and man to remove

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr Van Zandt has made these affections an especial study and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action, and are cured by the electro-galvanic battery—as amaurosis squinting, cataract, floating specks before the vision, twitching of the eyelids nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears, and dimness, etc All operations successfully done on those delicate organs of sense

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

It is a valuable healing gums, and vegetable oils and is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. It is almost impossible to say that I have never known any, however serious, to be benefited by it in the least. I will cheerfully answer to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with the following properties, the money will be cheerfully refunded by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the patient and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the inflammation, and heal the wound first intention.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Headache, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it three times daily, morning, noon and night, It will not only relieve the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia and your food distresses you after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the part freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea and it will soon be relieved.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

Kitty Bragg s Husband

"Mercy on us! What's happened to your father? Run out quick, Charlie, and open the gate What is the matter, John? You are as white as a sheet"

'Kitty, I'm drafted!"

In place of falling to crying and moaning, as is the fashion with some of our patriotic (?) women, Kitty Bragg laid her hand heavily on her husband's shoulder:

"John, I'm ashamed of you! if you were a child, I would give you a good shaking Compose yourself before Charlie comes in, I would not have him think his father was a coward."

"That is a hard word, Kitty"

"I know it, John, but the case demands it I would not have you lowered in our boy's sight Now, John Bragg, let you and I talk sense; let us reason the matter together You are a good man, John—a good husband and a good father. You are a brave man, too, de spite your trembling nerves Who plunged into the river, just above the rapids, after poor Widow Carne's only son? Who flung himself before old Mr Morris's mad horses and saved the old man's life? Why, just John Bragg I know what ails you, John; you are physically nervous at either the re port of fire-arms or the sight of blood You have spent your life poring over books, and never tried to overcome the weakness But you can overcome it, and you must."

This "must" was said smilingly

"I must, indeed, Kitty, for the die is cast, and there is no escape I do not think it is want of courage; and I am sure my heart glows with love for my country You know, Kitty, I have given freely of my poor means; but whenever I think of going to battle, this strange tremor assails me, and I am reduced to the weakness of a child I shall be dis graced, I know Don't you wish you had a brave husband, Kitty? I wouldn't blame you."

But Kitty did not hear She sat sat by the kitchen hearth, leaning her brown head on the jamb of the huge old-fashiond chimney. Her thoughts at last formed themselves into the words:

"I verily believe, John, it is a thing you cannot help—it is your misfortune, not your fault. Let us sell the place, Joe Martin will give you five hundred dollars for it, and then you can get a substitute. We can rent the little red house on the Murray farm, and then—"

"Never Kitty! talk no more—I would in deed be a coward then What! deprive my loved ones of a home to save my own bacon? Never—never! It is not my life I am afraid of—it is just the dim of battle, and the dread ful carnage. I will go, dear, and you must help me to be brave, and do my duty"

* * * * * * * * *

The morning came that the boys were to join their regiment. There was many a tear shed by wives, mothers, and sisters; but Kitty Bragg shed none; she had other work to do. She stood with John at the end of the platform talking.

"My little Bible is in your knapsack, John, read it often; whenever you feel that trembling coming over you, John, pray; just pray to God, and he will strengthen you. I know He will."

"O Kitty, how can I ever live without you?"

This almost upset the brave little woman, but she soon stilled the quivering lip, and smiled through her tears. When the order to "fall in" was given, John laid his hand on her brown hair, and said, tenderly:

"God bless you, Kitty! you are the best wife ever a poor man had."

She lifted up her mouth for a kiss, but the white lips were mute; for the life of her she could not have spoken The train moved off, and Kitty went home. She shuddered as she shut and her door-step. The clock ticked more lonely than she had ever heard it; and all seemed like desolation. Kitty sat down in her little sewing-chair, and wept like a child. Then she rose up, her face all a-glow, and his said, nothing.

"What! mother crying? Why, I think its a glorious thing to raise one's arm for one's country—a thing to die for," he said, rather dreamily.

"Yes, dear, it is glorious; but it is sad, too. I would not call him back; but I will be very lonely."

After that one burst of tears, Kitty was her own calm self again. Times passed on, and—as that Kitty prayed dinner, and was graver than her wont; one could see little change in her.

Charlie went off to school in the morning, and she was left alone all day. Broken ejaculations often escaped her lips—prayers for the safety and "strengthening" of "John;" till at last it became a habit. One Saturday she was baking and churning, and as usual her heart was full of prayer for her husband.

"O God, strengthen poor John, and let him not flinch in the day of battle. Come, Charlie, bring me in the chips, and this fire won't burn."

The neighbor was on the door step, smiled at the mingling of prayer and business.

"Have you heard the news, Kitty?"

The fear that John had deserted or done something cowardly, took all her strength away. She sat down on a chair faintly

"What is it, Mary?"

"Why, they had a riot in camp, some of the men disliked, and some mutinied, and John—bless me, Kitty, your milk's all bilin' over! There, I set it on the back griddle."

"What about John, Mary?"

"Why, John was the only one in his company that stood firm all through. He was as brave as a lion, though some of the half-crazy fellows threatened to shoot him if he did not join them. He influenced our boys to be quiet and do their duty. He told them it would only be for a little while, that after a while they would have a better camp and better rations. You know some of our boys were pretty wild, Kitty, and they might 'a got into trouble. My Joseph said he shouldn't wonder your John came home yet with gold straps on his shoulders. He bein' so brave, and having so much influence over the men, pleased Capt B all to pieces Ain't you glad, Kitty?"

But Kitty was crying for very joy That the fish knew of John should be good.

"Jake said in his letter that he said to John after the fuss

"'John, how could you be so brave and firm when there was such a confusion, and them fellows had their bayonets pinted at you?'

"Said your John, said he:

"'Jacob, I went there to do my duty, and I was determined to do it, and besides, how could a man go back from the right path, with such a woman as my Kitty at home praying for me?'"

This made Kitty's tears flow the faster, but they were joyful tears

At some future time I will tell of how John's courage stood the test of the battle-field, but, knowing all the circumstances, I feel almost sure Kitty Bragg will yet be proud of her husband

All ye young men who fear the draft, go and find a wife like Kitty Bragg

Proclamation by the Governor

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, PORTLAND OREGON
January 6 1863

By the President of the United States through Brigadier General George Wright commanding the Department of the Pacific and Brigadier General Benjamin Alvord commanding the District of Oregon I have been requested to raise six additional companies required to complete the 1st Regiment of Cavalry Oregon Volunteers They will be needed the coming Spring on the frontiers of this State and Washington Territory and for an expedition against the Snake Indians who have so long been mercilessly engaged in murdering emigrants and murdering our fellow citizens I cannot doubt that the citizens of Oregon who have always promptly responded to any demand for their military services will in like manner respond to this call thereby showing their loyalty to the Government and aiding in chastising marauding bands of Indians which infest our frontiers

The enlisted men when mounted will be supplied with horses by the United States it being understood that they will be mounted or not as shall be deemed advisable by the Government

Propositions to raise a whole company which will furnish their own horses and horse equipments may be entertained The men are in such cases entitled to forty cents a day for the use and risk of their horses and horse equipments

Each company will consist of one hundred enlisted men and when mustered into the service of the United States to serve for three years, unless sooner discharged

Recruiting offices will be immediately opened at Portland, Dalles City, and perhaps at other places By the Governor,
ADDISON C GIBBS
CYRUS A REED, Adjutant General
